WARSAW IS IN GERMAN HANDS

Muscovites Racing For New Positions to Preserve Forces

Panic of Last October Entirely Missing and Only Fifteen Per Cent. Leave Polish Capital.

London, Aug. 6—The Germans are in possession of Warsaw, capital of Poland, and the third largest city in the Russian Empire. Bavarian troops entered the city yesterday morning, having taken successively the Blonie lines and the outer and inner fortresses of the city itself, the Russians only fighting rear guard action to allow their main army to make good its escape.

While to the Bavarians commanded by Prince Leopold has fallen the honor of taking over Warsaw in the name of the German Emperor and his consort, who are expected to make a state entry within a few days, the real conquerors are the troops fighting under Field Marshal von Hindenburg, along the Narew River to the northeast; to the Austro-Germans, who crossed the Vistula to the south of the city, and to the armies of the Austrian Archduke Joseph Ferdinand and the German Field Marshal von Mackensen, which are advancing northward between the Vistula and the Bug Rivers.

The Russians are fighting desperately and stubbornly to check the progress of these four armies, and have had several successes, inflicting heavy losses on their pursuers; but they are being steadily pressed back: which made the longer occupation of the Waraw Polish salient a hazardous undertaking.

Even now, although the steadiness of the Russian troops and their fierce counter-attacks have gained much valuable time for them, it is problematical whether the whole Russian army will succeed in reaching the new positions chosen for it, or whether if it should get there, it will not find those positions turned by the Austrians, who have crossed the Bug southeast of Chelm, and the Germans under General von Scholz and von Gallwitz, who have crossed the Narew.

From refugees who left Warsaw some days ago, and have arrived at Moscow, it has been learned that Warsaw, even at that early date, had been denuded of virtually everything that might be useful to the Teutons. Factories had been stripped of their machinery, and all war stores moved into the interior of Russia, and the government of the city left to the Polish population.

The Russians also are preparing to evacuate Riga, the port on the gulf of that name, in the north. The arrival of the Germans ten miles south of that city already has been the cause of the civilian population departing.

Moscow, Aug. 6.—Hundreds of refugees from Warsaw are arriving daily. Most of them are without money or means of sustenance and are seeking aid at the American consulate, where an enlarged staff is attempting to supply temporary assistance, pending the organization of a Russian Relief Commission.

The refugees state that, although the population of the Polish capital was convinced that the Germans ultimately would occupy the city, a majority of the citizens elected to remain, only approximately 15 per cent. to date having left the city.

All the territory immediately to the west of Warsaw, containing large factories, Polish estates and peasant dwellings, now presents blackened and uninhabitable areas.

Care had been taken that no suburban factories should fall into the hands of the Germans and be converted to their use. Chief among those destroyed was the million dollar sugar factory belonging to a Polish lawyer, Eugene Kuruluk, with more than 2000 tons of sugar.

FRANCE WILL CONTINUE WAR.

Words of Joan of Arc Animate Men in the Trenches

Paris August 6—The first meeting of the Chamber of Deputies after the anniversary of the beginning of the war and following the establishment of the union of all political parties in France to endure so long as the war lasts was held yesterday. The session was marked by an extraordinary demonstration of patriotism which was a strong indication of the unanimity of all Frenchmen of every faith and shade of political belief. The meeting was the first since the formation of the present coalition cabinet in France.

Paul Deschanel, president of the Chamber, opened the session with an eloquent speech which was apparently intended to be a following of the example of the address of M. Rodizianko, president of the Russian Duma, at the recent opening of that legislative body, and a reply to the anniversary manifesto of the German Emperor. To this Premier Viviani gave response in the name of the government.

M. Deschanel said a year had passed since the enemy of France, even before declaring war, had violated French territory. "This year has been so full of a glory so pure,' he declared, "that it will forever illumine the human race.

"It has been a year in which France, the France of Joan of Arc and Valmy, has risen if possible to even greater heights.'

Continuing the President of the Chamber recounted briefly "the breaking of the German military power.' and "the forcing back of the enemy of France."

"Be the war of short or long duration France accepts it,' M. Deschanel declared. "The country is summoning its genius and changing its methods. Each French soldier before the enemy, repeats the words of Joan of Arc, 'you can enchain me but you cannot enchain the fortunes of France,' These touches of human grandeur come from the depths of the muddy trenches."

The president of chamber repeated the determination of France to continue the struggle to complete victory.

A message from President Poincare was read in the Chamber by Premier Viviani and in the Senate by Aristide Briand, minister of Justice.

M. Poincare closes his message with this statement:

"The only peace the republic can accept is one which will guarantee the security of Europe.'

TRUSTED AGENT DISAPPEARS.

Assistant Cashier for Contractors Vanishes With $22,000.

New York, Aug. 6.—With a weekly payroll amounting to $22,000, Edward C. Kindred, 28 years od, Wednesday disappeared in his automobile shortly after noon. Kindred who was assistant cashier for the contracting firm of Booth and Flinn, drove off in his automobile while his companion was sent into the bank to cash a draft. The money was obtained from the Liberty National Bank. It was to be used for the payroll of the firm's outside employees at work on the construction of the new subway tube under the East River.

The company's treasurer, W. A. Flinn, waited a short time and then had a general alarm sent out for the missing man. Kindred is a single man and was known as an exemplary employee. He had been with the company for three years. He has a monthy income of about $300 aside from his company salary.

RAILROAD IN OIL FIRE.

Runaway Tank Car Sets Entire Passenger Local Aflame.

Santa Ana, Cal., Aug. 6.—A runaway oil car collided with an Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe local passenger train here Wednesday, killing the engineer and setting fire to the train. The fireman and an express messenger are believed also to have been burned to death.

The oil car, running down grade at nearly 60 miles an hour wrecked the oil-burning locomotive of the passenger train and poured its cargo of oil over the coaches.

The oil ignited from the firebox, and the whole train burst into flames. Thirty passengers were injured, but, none was fatally hurt.

GERMANS MAKE DRIVE ON RIGA

Greatest Campaign in World's History Drawing to a Close

CZAR IS RETREATING

Slavs Fighting With Rare Courage and Desperation to Save Warsaw-Petrograd Railway.

Berlin, Aug. 6—The whole of the strongly fortified Russian line on the Vistula has been swept away. The fall of Novo Georgievskk completes the victory.

Berlin (via The Hague), Aug. 6—The greatest military campaign in the world's history is drawing rapidly to a close. The Russians are everywhere in retreat, from the Baltic to Galicia, their armies threatened with disaster.

Occupation of the great Russian Baltic seaport of Riga by the German army is now only a matter of hours.

Ivangorod, the Russian fortress defending Warsaw from the southeast has been captured by the Austrians according to an official bulletin from Vienna. Novo Georgievsk, lying north of Warsaw and considered impregnable, is being hastily evacuated by the Russian garrison, which is falling back in confusion to escape capture at the hands of the Bavarians who entered Warsaw.

Von Hindenburg on the north and von Mackensen on the south are smashing away in simultaneous attacks against the Russian flanks, squeezing in the wings of the beaten armies and threatening the capture of whole army corps. The world has never witnessed such a retreat.

In the north, the Slavs are fighting with rare courage and desperation to save the Warsaw-Petrograd railway, toward which General von Buelow is battering his way. In the southeast the enemy's resistance is equally determined, the flower of the Russian army endeavoring to halt von Mackensen's rush northward in the direction of Brest Litovsk, a march that spells disaster to the Russian left.

BELIEVE PEACE IS NEAR

Germans Suppose Fall of Warsaw Indicative of End of War

Berlin, Aug. 6—With Warsaw fallen official circles here do not conceal their belief that the world war will come to an end before winter.

The Kaiser is expected to return to Berlin on Sunday. An important conference is to be held next week by high government officers. It is reported that the ministry will discuss with the emperor the moves Germany is to make immediately after the successful ending of the Warsaw campaign.

The belief that German's enemies despite their public announcements of preparedness to fight to the end, are in reality tiring of the war and about ready to talk peace is based on the growing conviction in official circles here that the allies have about "reached the end of their string," so far as offensive movements are concerned.

500 BURN TO DEATH

Geneva, Aug. 6—A dispatch to the Tribune from Laibach says:

"Shells from the Italian artillery set fire to two trains on the Borgo-Levico railroad while they were on their way to Rovereto. The first train was filled with troops, of whom 500 were burned to death. The second was carrying ammunition, and eight cars of it exploded.

"At Polazzo eight attacks by the Italians were repulsed, but the ninth attack resulted in the capture of several miles of newly constructed trenches.

"The Italians have brought up more heavy guns against Corizia, the systematic bombardment of which has begun. The Austrians are replying feebly.

ENGLAND IN THE WAR

Belfour Makes Encouraging Address After First Year of Hostilities

In his address in celebration of the first year of hostilities Mr. Balfour told the people of England that the country was now ready to fight and that all that it has done in the past is as nothing to what it is prepared to do in the future. He reminded his hearers and the world of the fact that at the outbreak of the war England had promised to provide 160,000 troops for the continental battlefields while since then its actual losses have been in fact three times that number. England has been the watchdog of the seas. The bark of its navy was heard in the world's waters as it chased the few battleships of its foes from the seas and as it drove the traffic of Germany likewise from the wide ocean and caused the capture or the tying up in neutral ports of billions of dollars worth of shipping and cargoes. And yet the vast number of the British ships are as yet waiting the day that may never arrive when the Germans will come out of Kiel and give battle to the British fleets. England had the preponderance of ships of war and its success upon the water is, therefore commensurate with the success of the Germans upon the land, they having had the preponderance of military supplies and men. There has been a steady stream of transports passing from England to the Continent and from the colonies to England without any loss whatever despite the activities of the German submarines. These activities have been no military factor whatever, despite the submarines' sharp thrusts and their ability to bring the German nation upon the brink of war with the leading neutral power and one that has traditional and inherent ties and reasons for friendship with the German nation. Britain rules the waves and this rulership as pointed out by Mr. Balfour, has prevented the great continental power from having seas dominions which would have been a menace to the entire world.

Looking to the future, the speaker declared that England had by no means shot it bolt , and that while Germany comes to the end of its resources, England has not gotten sight of the end of its ability to carry on the war. He asserted the mechanical superiority of the foe is being quickly matched and will rapidly be subordinated to the mechanical preparations of the Allies. Mr. Balfour was supported in this statement by the minister of munitions, who declared that the country would be astonished to know of the list of supplies the navy has stopped from entrance into Germany, while that power is forced to sequester every domestic copper utensil in order to get needed supplies of the metal.

BANDIT CHIEF OF EIGHT

Six Penusylvania Boys Arrested Confess Burglaries

Sunbury Pa., Aug 6—Six young boys arrested here Wednesday admitted a series of store robberies that would have done credit to experienced crooks. The boys, who confessed, placed their extraordinary knowledge of crime upon what they had learned in the movies.

George Martz, aged 8 his next birthday, told how he and a companion not yet apprehended, forced open the door of the Treon and Leiby's cigar store and stole several revolvers. Then, armed with these, they entered a private home and, unfraid behind guns, ransacked it. The same night with Clarence Williams, also under 15 they went to Frank Zimmerman's sporting goods store and, after cutting out a glass window, stole a quantity of goods. Williams also confessed to robbing this store alone. Michael Sunseri, Willaim Pyers, Harry Koble, and Fay Ressler also admitted to being members of this gang of boy bandits.

According to the police, they would go into the place by broad daylight and look it over, selecting the point where they thought they could easiest force an entrance, then at night the work would be done.

William W. Houtz's wholesale grocery store was also robbed and a dozen watches stolen. Some of these and other loot was recovered.

OFFICIAL RETURNS OF THE PRIMARY

Will Be Changes in Personnel of Next Virginia Senate

MAJOR STUBBS LOSES

M. E. Bristow Will Succeed Veteran of House From Gloucester—Paul Withdraws from Race.

Richmond, Aug. 6—Additional returns received last night from the Democratic primary on Tuesday in the Sixteenth Senatorial District make certain the defeat of Senator John B. Watkins by Dr. Thomas H. Hening. Complete figures from Goochland give Hening a majority of 140 in that county and a lead of three votes in Powhatan. Senator Watkins carried Chesterfield by eighty-four the official count shows.

Hening now has a lead of only fifty-nine votes, and, while Senator Watkins's friends do not concede his defeat, they admit that there is little chance for him. Watkins was opposed by the Anti-Saloon League, but local conditions in Goochland contributed largely to Dr. Hening's heavy vote there.

Complete returns from Gloucester show the defeat of Major J. N. Studds, the veteran of the House of Delegates, by M. E. Bristow, a young attorney, who was supported by the dry element. Major Stubbs carried only one precinct in the county. However, the name of Stubbs will still be carried on the roll of the House, late returns from Mathews and Middlesex indicating the election of R. H. Stubbs from the district by a majority of twenty-nine over 3 opponents, Alexander James, J. William Daniel and Julian Healy.

John O. Daniels defeated T. F. Mason as the floater delegate from Fauquier and Loudoun.

The official figures from Cumberland and Buckingham overturn the early majority credited to A. J. Terrell, of New Canton, and give the seat in the House from that district to H. P. Baker, Judge John Y. Harris was re-elected from Dinwiddie County over two opponents by a comfortable majority.

No returns are yet available from Brunswick, where S. G. Jones and W. B. Valentine were in the race for the House. The results in Goochland and Fluvanna, King and Queen and Essex and Nelson are also missing.

Senator John Paul, republican of Rockingham ,yesterday announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election. He says he does not want to be renominated at the Republican convention, which will be held on August 28, and expresses the hope that a dry man will be named. Paul voted against the enabling act both in 1912 and in 1914, but makes it plain that he has no apologies to make for his attitude, saying that he stood on the platform of his party, which had declared for local option.

Dr. C. H. Rolston ,a member of the present House will probably be named for the vacancy on the Democratic ticket for his present seat. Brock T. White had no opposition for the other seat from Rockingham in Tuesday's primary.

In Hanover County Walter Sydnor, of Ashland defeated George P. Haw, who has held the office of Commonwealth's attorney for many years, by a majority of 120. C. B. Hall defeated County Treasurer H. Guy Vaughan for re-election by a majority of forty-six. In the contest for floater delegate from Hanover and King William, T. C. Commins had a majority of 195 over W .A. Willeroy.

The official count of the vote in Chesterfield showed 524 votes cast for John B. Watkins; 440 for Dr Thomas S. Hening, for the Senate. For the House of Delegates, W. W. Baker, for Chesterfield alone ,and Emmett L. Mann, for Chesterfield and Powhatan Counties received respectively, 901 and 896 votes, they having no opposition.

Official returns from the primary in Shenandoah County show the nomination of Chas. Tapley, for sheriff, Philip Williams, for Commonwealth attorney, and C. F. Headley, for treasurer.

SPY IN NUNS GARB.

Young Woman Discoveres Teuton In Act of Shaving

New York, Aug. 6—One of the most interesting recent revelations of the German system of espionage has reached this city in a letter from Lorne Cameron, an officer in one of the first Canadian regiments to be transported to England.

Cameron, who is a son of Sir Douglas Cameron, M. P., former governor of Manitoba, obtained permission to sail on a transport which left Montreal ahead of the one which was to carry his own company, his reason being the desire to take his wife along and establish her in England before he was ordered to the firing line.

Before leaving Winnipeg the Camerons were asked if they would take charge of a young English girl who was returning home and see that she was delivered safely at her destination. They agreed willingly and the young officer set about getting her accommodations. He found the ship crowded and the girl was obliged to share a stateroom with a nun. This was satisfactory enough, as the nun kept much to herself, and the first two days of the crossing passed without incident.

On the night of the third day out the young girl awoke some hours after she had retired, and glancing over the high rail of her berth was astonished to notice a light behind the curtains of the nun's berth across the stateroom. The curtains were not entirely drawn and by altering her position quietly the girl was able to peep between them. To her horror she saw the nun crouched in front of a small mirror—shaving!

Pluckily restraining her desire to scream, the girl closed her eyes and remained perfectly still until well after daybreak, when she slipped on her bath robe and hurried to the cabin of her guardians. Cameron notified the captain immediately of what the girl had seen, and the nun was promptly investigated.

Stripped of her close-fitting headdress, the sweet-faced sister proved to be a blonde and gentlemanly young German spy, traveling with the troop ship for th e sake of what information he could pick up. He was placed in irons and turned over to the military authorities on the ship's arrival in England.

RESIGNATION OF A PASTOR

Quits Church When Name is Coupled With That of Woman

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 6—The sensational resignation of the Rev. Morley T. Williams, pastor of the Washington Street Methodist Church the largest and most fashionable here has attracted the attention of persons who did not even know his dismissal was a possibility.

Suddenly tendering his resignation, the Rev. Mr. Williams left the city early yesterday with his wife and two children following charges heard before the church's official board.

Testimony by a church member concerning an unexpected call made at the minister's study, where he was found in company with a young woman, figured in the proceedings before the board. When the board summoned the pastor and asked him if he cared to make a statement, he declined, upon which he was asked to resign. His plea to be allowed to stay a year longer was refused.

It was suggested, however, that he start on his vacation on August 1, and that if he left quietly at that time it would be best for all concerned.

The minister is 45 years old. He held a pastorate at Peekskill before coming here.

Nelson Harris, colored, was accidentally eletcricuted in the meat packing plant of George McSweeney, in Richmond, yesterday afternoon. One of the current wires broke in some manner and fell to the floor of the building, setting it afire. Harris was sent to secure pails of water to put out the fire, and had thrown several on the blaze when he was shocked. The wire did not touch the man, and it is thought that the current traveled through the water on the floor to Harris, who was in the act of dashing another bucket of water on the fire when the shock struck him.

PROBING GRAFT AT HOPEWELL

From $3,000 to $5,000 Said to be Collected Daily For Protection

SPECIAL GRAND JURY

Names of Accused Kept Private by Officials—Deposed Chief Again Placed Under Arrest.

Richmond, Aug. 6.—That grafters at Hopewell were able to levy and collect daily tributes, ranging from $3,000 to $5,000, from gambling joints, whisky and beer saloons and resorts frequented by women, as well as from individuals engaged in these and other lines, is a conservative estimate of the "take-off" shared by the "system" at the powder plant town, following revelations growing out of the removal of the police force last Tuesday.

The names of the men involved in the wholesale grafting are being withheld by the investigators, who are gathering information and evidence to present to the special grand jury of Prince George County Circuit Court when it convenes next Monday. The number is also being kept secret, but the result of the probe will bring to light highly sensational details.

Just how long this state of affairs has continued in such huge proportions is not known, even by the detectives, who have been making investigations only since the latter part of June. It is believed, however, that the total cannot be less than $50,000 and might run as high as $75,000 or $100,000, if there should be any way of arriving at the figures. A t any rate, there are several men, who came to Hopewell four months ago with no money at all, who are now said to have the coin to invest in many enterprises and are known to have good-sized rolls.

One of the sources of revenue which has yielded vast sums has been the inmates of what would be the "red-light district" in any other town or city, but in Hopewell night and day are the same, and there have been no restrictions on the underworld there. There are 200 women of questionable character in the town, and on these have been levied sums of not less than $5 a day. Many of them who were known to have money were arrested from time to time and required to pay additional assessments.

Of the 145 places holding Federal retail liquor licenses, the greatest number sold whisky and beer and were assesed by the "system." The gambling houses came across with their share as well.

With the Du Pont pay roll exceeding $1,250,000 a month, money has been plentiful in Hopewell and those operating in violation of the law made little objection to pay for "protection." However, when the "system" is said to have reached out to assess legitimate enterprises, the trouble started.

Last week a large number of Greeks, of whom there are 4,000 in Hopewell, held a mass meeting to protest against being required to pay graft, and the leaders in this movement urged the State authorities to take action. The Good Government Association of Hopewell was also active in its efforts to have the "system" eliminated, and Tuesday's action by Judge West, of the Circuit Court, in removing the police force, and putting Du Pont men in charge of the police affairs of the town met with the approval of the element engaged in legitimate enterprises.

No Discount Will be Allowed on City Tax Bills After Next Tuesday.

With only three more days remaining for tax payers to settle their 1915-16 tax bills, in order to secure the discount allowed by City Council, the office of P. F. Gorman, City Tax collector, is doing a large business. The last date to secure the discount will be on Tuesday, and after this time, it will be impossible for the collector to grant a discount. Tax payers have had over a month additional time this year because of the delay in council passing the ordinance fixing the tax rate for this year. City Council's delay, in turn, was caused by the change in the state tax laws.

Under a ruling of City Auditor Price the tax collector is compelled to furnish the city auditor with a complete list of all persons who have paid their taxes, prior to August 10th, and who have secured a discount. He is given five days in order to file this list.

ALEXANDRIA COUNCIL O. F. A.

Alexandria Council No. 5 Order Fraternal Americans held its semi-monthly meeting in I. O. O. F. Hall last evening and the same was largely attended. The meetings are growing in interest despite the warm weather. TAKING OF WARSAW.

German armies have entered the abandoned city of Warsaw following upon a rear guard engagement by the Russians that has made the retirement from the Polish capital a caurageous piece of fine enterprise and cool strategy. Grand Duke Nicholas is already hailed by many military experts as the finest strategist on the east side. As the days pass by and the retreat of the Russians is maintained with successful rebuffs to the foe the Germans will find they have achieved an empty victory. The retirement of the Russians will enable them to select a line of defense that will be very much shorter than that of Warsaw and without the necessity for centering defense about a single unit, as in this case.

Those who have been disposed to predict that the Russians will be virtually eliminated until next spring are counting without their host. For should the Russian Army escape, the taking of Warsaw will be of no more strategic advantage than was the taking of Washington of military worth to the British in the War of 1812 or the taking of Manassas by the federal army during the civil war.

Only by giving the Russian Army a crushing blow can the Germans release a considerable body of troops for the west front. Otherwise they will ha e to content themselves by trenching in and resting, with the prospect of carrying on identical tactics as those forced upon them by the French following the battle of the Marne. Should there be a rush of troops to the west side from the east the Allies will probably be prepared to meet the German reinforcements. Germany has yet to prove that it has carried on more than a sacrifice campaign for the taking of the Polish capital.

JEWS WILL VIE IN PRAYER

A conference of 30 New York rabbis has resulted in the issuance of a call to the Jews of America to fast and pray next Monday as a means of expressing sorrow for conditions in Europe and protesting against "this unnecessary war, which is costing the lives of so many men.' Congregations will also pray that "the war may soon end and that our country may not be entangled in this wild and crazy conflict." Special services, conducted only on the Day of Atonement, will be held, and the bugle, used only on holidays, will be sounded. The announcement concludes as follows: 'A nation will fast, a nation will mourn, a nation will pray, May the prayers reach the Almighty."

Members of the executive council of the B'Nai B'Rith, meeting who met at Atlantic City this week, declared the condition of the Jews in Russia had not been improved, notwithstanding reports of concessions at the beginning of the war. Speakers charged that Jews were being used as shields in the trenches.

While Israelites took no part in bringing on the present war, as has been the case since the birth of the nation, they are the sufferers. Their plight in parts of Russia and other theatres of carnage has been pitiful during the past year. They have refuged from place to place and in scriptual language, have had no continuing city. They have resolved to do what they have done in other critical times in their history—appeal to Jehovah for relief. It is a good omen.

The purpose outlined above suggests scenes during the days of Ahasuerus, when Haman, the last of the Amalekites, planned the extermination of the Abrahamic race. A fast was declared, appeals ascended on high, and the intended massacre miscarried, Haman falling into the pit he had dug for others.

WOULD BROADEN THEIR SPHERE.

That ministers should assume leadership in other than spiritual matters and that their scope of work is intended to broaden the sphere of a happy conscientious life was plainly set forth in the several addresses that were heard at the opening session of the country life conference for Maryland ministers, which began a three day meeting at College Park, Md., yesterday. It was the opinion of most of the preachers that the full meaning of Christ's message was more extensive than merely preaching the message of salvation and that those who cling to the latter interpretation of the call of the minister are possessed of a selfish motive, that of self preservation, which some of the preachers characterized as a fire insurance religion.

The late Henry Ward Beecher, T. DeWitt Talmadge and others acted upon the principle set forth above. Beecher believed that politics, current happenings, etc., should be discussed in the pulpit, and many of his utterances aided in precipitating the war between the states. The Methodist and Presbyterian Churches split on issues which brought on that conflict.

Many students of Christianity have been unable to adopt the theory that the mission of the minister of the gospel was intended to expand into other fields. Paul when writing to the Corinthians said he determined to know nothing save Jesus Christ and Him crucified. The attempts to inveigle the Great Author of faith into political contentions always proved failures.

NEWS OF THE DAY

At a meeting yesterday afternoon in Ilion, N. Y., which was attended by about 1,500 piece workers in the Remnigton arms plant, a general strike of all piece workers was declared. There has been no disorder.

The thirty-second annual convention of the Knights of Columbus ended yesterday in Seattle, Wash., the final business being the choosing of Davenport, Iowa, as the convention city for next year.

Five persons were drowned near Port Sydney, Muskoka, Ontario, yesterday, when an automobile in which they were riding skidded on the floating bridge across Long Lake and, breaking through the railing, plunged into the water.

A conference of 30 New York rabbis resulted yesterday in the issuance of a call to the Jews of America to fast and pray next Monday as a means of expressing sorrow for conditions in Europe and protesting against "this unnecesary war which is costing the lives of so many men."

German and Austrian journals continue to urge the necessity of the Pope's quitting Rome. They agree that the most preferable shelter for him woud be the Benedictine abbey of Einseideln, near Zuirch, where the Swiss Government has discretly advised the pontiff he would find absolute security.

Three children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed six cottages of summer resorters at Lake Geneva, Wis., and was not controlled until a seventh cottage in the path of the flames was dynamited early yesterday. The children of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Bryant, of Chicago, fell through the burning second floor of the cottage while their parents and several hundred others stood by helpless to aid them.

The Austro-Germans, with more than twenty heavy batteries, are bombarding Ivangorod from all sides, causing great destruction. The Russians are resisting heroically. On August 3 the Russians attacked Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces on the Radomka River. The fighting was exceptionally heavy, as was shown by the fact that within a few hours the battlefield was covered with 20,000 bodies of men from both sides.

While he was lying in his bed helpless and speechless, the victim of a paralytic stroke, Dr. J. E. Gauline, a well known physician of the northern suburbs of Baltimore, had his night shirt stripped from his back by a burglar Wednesday night or early yetserday morning. The entire lower floor of Dr. Gauline's home was ransacked, and besides the night shirt the burglar made off with about $75 in cash and a number of other articles.

The story of an alleged self-confessed embezzer's offer to commit suicide in order that the firm he robbed might collect his life insurance, of the indignant refusal of the offer because of a wife and a young child, was revealed yesterday in Magistrate Pannock's office in Philadelphia, when Walton P. Nickerson, 27 years old, was arraigned, accused of embezzling approximately $5,000 from the Equitable Loan Society, of 1206 Arch street.

At least three looters were shot and wounded, and several others fired on, last night while Erie, Pa., panic-stricken awaited a second flood. Rain, which fell in torrents early in the evening and threatened to bring more death and destruction, ceased just before midnight and the danger of further flood was ended. The death list resulting from the first flood was brought up to 26 last night. The entire city again was in darkness as the light plant is still out of commission.

Mrs. Amelia Pig, of Catlettsburg, Ky., stepped in front of the Chesapeake and Ohio flyer at Huntington' W. Va., Wednesday night and was killed. The woman was a drug fiend and since the Federal law went into effect had been frantic in her craving. She stood behind a telegraph pole and as the flyer approached tucked her skirts tightly about her and jumped to the middle of the track. She was in the act of sitting down with her back to the engine when struck.

For more than five days John Hughes, of New York, went to work, met his friends and was with his family without knowing his neck was broken and that he was near death. He complained of a slight pain in his neck, but did not think it worth while to investigate. When about to sit down at the dinner table with his family soemthing in his neck snapped, and he fell to the floor unconscious and died. While swimming at Long Beach Wednesday, Hughes dived from a jetty and his head hit a log. He was dazed for a few minutes, and following that felt the pain in his neck.

Pope Benedict XV will launch a great campaign for peace in Europe at the next consistory held at the Vatican. This probably wil take peace between the end of August and the middle of September. In addition to the cardinals taking part in the consistory, bishops from the largest cities of Europe will be invited to come to Rome and participate in the great counicl, which will issue an appeal to every belligerent nation. Poles all over the world are flooding the Vatican with letters urging the Pope to intervene in behalf of Poland and to request the Russian government to spare the soil of that unhappy country from further devastation.

Despondent because of inability to meet his financial obligations, Samuel P. Meredith, aged 53 years, committed suicide yesterday morning in Lynchburg by shooting himself in the right temple, dying before his wife, who was in another room, could reach him.

The Du Pont Company at City Point announces that on and after August 16 the working time for all employees will be reduced from ten to eight hours per day, with the same pay as at present. The company will work three shifts per twenty-four hours, instead of two as now.

Engineer Joe Kipps, of Richlands, and Brakeman Sizer Pruett, of Raven' were killed in a wreck yesterday morning at Swords Creek, when a double header freight train on the Norfolk and Western Railway, of which Kipps was in charge of the second engine, jumped the track and plunged into Clinch River.

Pupils of the public schools will have a new text book when the schools are re-opened next month. The book is to be issued by the State Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Health. The new study is first aid to the injured and the prevention of accidents. It will be henceforward a part of the regular curriculum of the schools of the Commonwealth.

Noah Steele, a young man about 25 years old, a brakeman on the log train of the Atkins Lumber Company at Atkins, was instantly killed Wednesday morning while at work at Marion. The cars were being shifted on a switchboard and he started to cross the track in order to use the brakes when his foot caught, throwing him between the cars. His body was almost severed and he only lived a few minutes after being taken out.

Captain Frank V. Winston, a prominent citizen and lawyer of Louisa county, died at 3 o'clock yesterday at his home near Louisa Courthouse in the 85th year of his age. Captain Winston was a member of one of the oldest and most honorable families of Colonial Virginia. Captain Winston commanded the Louisa Grays during the War Between the States. He was perhaps the most prominent member of the Baptist Church in Louisa county.

The city of Richmond will be asked to settle claims for damage done to real estate and merchandise by the two recent overflows of Shockoe Creek, aggregating about $500,000. Property owners, firms and individuals engaged in business in the inundated district held a conference yesterday afternoon in the office of W. A. Chaetwood' one of the heaviest A. Cheatwood' one of the heaviest Protective Association, the object of which is to take proper and legal steps toward securing indemnity from the city.

The Rev. Dr. Wayland F. Dunaway, a Baptist minister of Lancaster, and his son, Clarence Dunaway, principal of the John B. aCry School of Richmond, were injured Wednesday when a young horse they were driving became frightened at an automobile and ran away. Both were thrown from the buggy. Dr. Dunaway is about 75 years old. Dr. Dunway was a member of the conventio nthat framed the present Constitution of Virginia, and is the moderator of the Rappahannock Baptist Association.

Eugene Herndon was struck by lightning and instantly killed in the Vashti section near Danville, last Sunday. Carroll Pearson, who was near Herndon at the time the bolt struck lies in a critical condition and may not recover from the shock he sustained. The young men were at Wash Pearson's house, which is in the Hinesville section, spending Sunday afternoon quietly. The storm broke with all its fury early during the afternoon and a lightning bolt struck Wash Pearson's house, literally demolishing one side of it. Herndon was picked up dead and Pearson was found unconscious.

Richard Alexander, a negro youth, claiming to be only 16 years old and who is believed to have recently escaped from a reformatory, is in Henrico county jail charged with wrecking a Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train near Pottomoi Creek, in Hanover county, early Wednesday afternoon. He was caught at Doswell, a few miles west of the scene of the accident. The boy admits breaking the lock on a switch through sheer mischief "to see the train run off the track." Though the engine and the baggage car were derailed and upturned, no one was hurt.

A number of Petersburgers have visited the Poplar Grove (National) Cemetery, about 3 1-2 miles from the city in Dinwiddie county, to view the havoc wrought by the storm of Tuesday night. The scene almost baffles description. The beauitful grove has almost entirely disappeared, trees of all sizes having been either broken off near the ground like pipestems or uprooted. The roots of the large trees blown down disinterred a number of bodies—at least the bones—of the soldier dead and all over the cemetery the small head stones have been either torn up or displaced. It is as if a great giant with his scythe had leveled the once beautiful grove and desecrated the ground.

VIRGINIA LAWYERS ELECT

Aug. 6—The Virginia State Bar Association elected the following officers yesterday:

President—Eppa Hunton, Richmond.

Vice-Presidents— N. C. Manson Jr., Lynchburg; Fitzhugh Elden Staunton; H. N. Hawthorne and Joseph A. Massie, Newport News and Richard T. Wilson.

Secretary and Treasurer—John B. Minor, Richmond.

Members of Executive Committee—L. H. Machen, Alexandria; James H Corbitt, Suffolk.

Delegates to American Bar Association—Henry W. Anderson and Eugene C. Massie, Richmnod; Judge R. T. W. Duke, Charlottesville.

Featuring the morning session was a paper read by Harry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, on "The Supreme Court and the Treaty-making Power." He reviewed the decisions of the United States Supreme Court in which treaties have figured, and showed that, contrary to the opinion generally held, the Supreme Court of the United States has never held that a treaty annulled a law of ascheat.

DROWNED AT COLONIAL BEACH

Abraham Oscar And Miss Dorothy Abramson in Colonial Beach Tragedy.

Abraham Oscar, 20 years old, of 53 I street northeast Washington, was drowned at Colonial Beach yesterday.

The young man was drowned while bathing with a party of his friends, among whom was Miss Dorothy Abramson, and his death was the result of a series of accidents, compelling the rescuers to bend every effort toward bringing the girl ashore in order to save her life.

About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Miss Abramson and Oscar, while swimming together, were pulled under an unusually large swell. Rescuers immediately dove for the girl, bringnig her to the surface and succeeded in getting her into a canoe. Before they could get her to land, however, the canoe capsized, and a second rescue had to be effected. In the meantime, Oscar had been swept to his death. His body was recovered later.

Abraham Oscar, the dead man, was an employe of Saks and Company.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA

CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Proposed amendments to the Constitution of Virginia, agreed to at session of General Assembly 1914, and published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act approved February 3, 1908.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 46, Article IV, of the Constitution.

Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section forty-six of article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly, after the first under this Constitution, shall continue longer than sixty days; but with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Except for the first session held under this Constitution, members shall be allowed a salary for not exceeding sixty days at any regular session, and for not exceeding thirty days at any extra session. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place nor for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates, and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly shall continue longer than ninety days, except that with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place, not for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 50 of Article IV of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment, and certifying the same to the next General Assembly.

1. Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section fifty of article four of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section fifty, article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house, to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.

No bill shall become a law unless prior to its passage it has been—

(a) Referred to a committee of each house, considered by such committee in session, and reported;

(b) Printed by the house in which it originated, prior to its passage therein;

(c) Read at length on three different calendar days in each house; and unless,

(d) A yea and nay vote has been taken in each house upon its final passage, the names of the members voting for and against entered on the journal, and a majority of those voting, which shall include at least two-fifths of the members elected to each house, recorded in the affirmative.

And only in the manner required in sub-division (d) of this section shall an amendment to a bill by one house be concurred in by the other, or a conference report be adopted by either house, or either house discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill and consider the same as if reported; provided, that the printing and reading, or either, required in sub-division (b and c) of this section, may be dispensed with in a bill to codify the laws of the State, and in any case of emergency by a vote of four-fifths of the members voting in each house taken by the yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal; provided further, that no bill which creates or established a new office, or which creates, continues or revives a debt or charge or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, or discharges, or commutes any claim or demand of the State, or which imposes, continues or revives a tax, shall be passed except by the affirmative vote of the majority of all the members elected to each house, the vote to be by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal. Every law imposing, continuing or reviving a tax shall specifically state such tax, and no law shall be construed as so stating such tax, which requires a reference to any other law or any other tax. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of the house over which he presides, sign every bill which has been passed by both houses and duly enrolled. Immediately before this is done, all other business being suspended, the title of the bill shall be publicly read. The fact of the signing shall be entered on the journal.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.

MEXICAN SITUATION

Latin-Americans Will Not Recognize Villa nor Carranza Factions

Washington, Aug. 6—Diplomatic representatives of six Latin-American countries listened for nearly two hours yesterday afternoon while Secretary of State Lansing and Paul Fuller, of New York, reviewed the political and economic situation in Mexico.

The conference, which was held in Secretary Lansings office, adjourned to meet again this afternoon, when it is expected that an indefinite recess will be taken to permit the foreign diplomats to obtain the views of their respective governments on the Mexican situation in the light of what has been communicated to them

No immediate results may be reported as the result of yesterday's conference, but this may be reported as the outstanding feature:

As a result of the attitude of the Latin-American conferences, the program for the rehabilitation of Mexico upon which Mr. Fuller, as the principal Mexican adviser of the State Department, had tentatively detremined for presentation of the conference has undergone an important change.

Although informal the Latin-American conferences nevertheless made it perfectly plain that no plan which involves the material recognition of the Villa faction and the substantial ignoring of the better class of Mexicans which neither the Villa nor the Carranza factions represnts, will receive the indorsement of their governments.

This hint was thrown out by the foreign diplomats with a view to its effect upon the tentative plan which they understand will be laid before them for discussion today.

DEATH IN BOILING FLUID.

Factory Engineer Engulfed When Door of Big Vat Opened.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—Unable to attract aid by his cries of agony or drag himself from pools of boiling liquid, William Eckness, a night engineer employed by Hafleigh & Co., North American and Somerset Sts., was scalded to death Wednesday morning at his post of duty. Eckness, who was 36 years old, and who boarded at No. 1852 East Lippincott street, was tightening a bar which secured the door to a vat containing thousands of gallons of a boiling mixture used in the making of buttons. The bar broke and liberated a stream of the hot fluid. He was drenched from head to foot, and his body was horribly seared and scalded. He was dead when he was found by the company's night watchman.

KILLED ON WEDDING DAY.

New Haven, Aug. 6.—Miss Eunice Louise Hoag, of Long Meadow, Mass., died Wednesday in a New Haven hospital from injuries received when an automobile in which she and her fiance, Gerald W. Worden, a wealthy Springfield real estate dealer, were speeding to New York for their wedding was capsized, pinning the young woman underneath. The marriage was to have taken place Wednesday at the home of the young man's parents who were at the same time to celebrate their wedding anniversary. Worden is in the hospital but will recover.
